

SPANISH

The objective of the Spanish programme is to bring participants to a high level of proficiency in the language as well as to provide them with a sound knowledge of the society and culture of Spanish-speaking countries. The Spanish programme is offered both as a major and a minor.

In order to declare a major in Spanish, applicants must initially complete two introductory courses i.e. SPAN1001. Spanish I.1 and SPAN1002. Spanish I.2 (12 credits in all) and achieve at least a grade C in SPAN1002. In their second, third and fourth years of study, students pursuing a major in Spanish must take a total of 54 credits of Spanish courses which should normally be distributed as follows:

- 18-24 credits from courses at level 2XXX, of which 12 credits must be from the core language courses, i.e. SPAN2001. Spanish II.1 and SPAN2002. Spanish II.2
- 30-36 credits from courses at level 3XXX or 4XXX, of which 12 credits must be from the core language courses, i.e. SPAN3001. Spanish III.1 and SPAN3002. Spanish III.2 and 6 credits from SPAN4003, SPAN4004 or SPAN4005, three 'capstone' courses designed to allow students to advance their analytical thinking by permitting the application of disciplinary knowledge and principles learned in the first, second and third years.

Finally, students will be strongly encouraged to participate in a 3 to 4 weeks' linguistic stay in Spain or a Spanish-speaking country during the summer or winter either between their second and third year or their third and fourth year of study. Upon their return to HKU they can apply for SPAN3119. Overseas immersion language course - Spanish.

Major (72 credits)

To complete a major in Spanish, students are expected to take a total of 72 credits with the following components:

- Prerequisite courses (12 credits):
SPAN1001. Spanish I.1
SPAN1002. Spanish I.2
These courses will be offered to undergraduates in Year 1 or 2.
- Other Arts Faculty introductory courses to be taken from any Arts programmes (6 credits)
- Core courses (24 credits):
SPAN2001. Spanish II.1
SPAN2002. Spanish II.2
SPAN3001. Spanish III.1
SPAN3002. Spanish III.2
These courses will be offered to undergraduates in Year 2, 3 and 4.
- Spanish elective courses (24 credits):
At least four 6-credit elective courses from the list below.
These courses will be offered to undergraduates in Year 2, 3 and 4.
- Capstone experience course (6 credits):
SPAN4003. Developing autonomy in Spanish language learning (capstone experience); or SPAN4004. Hispanic research project (capstone experience); or SPAN4005. Internship for students of Spanish (capstone experience)
These courses will be offered to undergraduates in Year 4.

Minor (36 credits)

To complete a minor in Spanish, students are expected to take a total of 36 credits with the following components:

- Prerequisite courses (12 credits):

SPAN1001. Spanish I.1

SPAN1002. Spanish I.2

These courses will be offered to undergraduates in Year 1 or 2.

- Core courses (24 credits):

SPAN2001. Spanish II.1

SPAN2002. Spanish II.2

SPAN3001. Spanish III.1

SPAN3002. Spanish III.2

These courses will be offered to undergraduates in Year 2, 3 and 4.

Core Courses

SPAN1001. Spanish I.1 (6 credits)

This course is intended for students who have no previous knowledge of Spanish. The main objective of the course is to provide students with a firm foundation in the four language skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking) as well as to offer insights into Spanish-speaking cultures. Through an action-based approach, this course will enable participants to engage in simple conversations and interactive situations. By the end of the course, students should be able to use the Spanish language at an A1.1 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFRL) where they can understand and use familiar everyday expressions and basic phrases. More specifically, they should be able to introduce themselves and others, ask and answer questions about personal details and interact in a simple way. Classes will be conducted in small groups in order to ensure a high degree of interaction between students and teachers.

Prerequisite: Nil

Assessment: 100% coursework. Coursework includes: i) progress tests, ii) other assignments and iii) participation in class.

SPAN1002. Spanish I.2 (6 credits)

The aim of this course is to develop students' language proficiency at a higher level by building on the skills acquired in SPAN1001. The objectives are to consolidate the knowledge acquired in the first semester and to broaden participants' foundation in Spanish in the four language skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking) through an action-based approach. The course also aims at expanding students' knowledge of Spanish-speaking cultures. Based on the guidelines set out by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFRL), this course should lead students towards a more independent and autonomous use of the language, equivalent to an A1.2+/A2.1 level. Students will be able to understand specific information in written and oral texts as well as exchange personal information about family, education and work. Classes will be conducted in small groups in order to ensure a high degree of interaction between students and teachers.

Prerequisite: SPAN1001. Spanish I.1

Assessment: 100% coursework. Coursework includes: i) progress tests, ii) other assignments and iii) participation in class

SPAN2001. Spanish II.1 (6 credits)

The aim of this course is to develop the students' communicative competence in all skills (reading, writing, speaking, and listening) towards an A2.2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFRL). The course design integrates general competences (sociocultural knowledge, intercultural competence) as well as communicative abilities, including linguistic (grammar, lexical) and sociolinguistic (forms of address, register, etc.) competences.

Prerequisite: SPAN1002. Spanish I.2

Assessment: 100% coursework. Coursework includes: i) progress tests, ii) other assignments, and iii) participation in class.

SPAN2002. Spanish II.2 (6 credits)

The aim of this course is to develop the students' communicative competence in all skills (reading, writing, speaking, and listening) towards a B1.1 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFRL). The course design integrates general competences (sociocultural knowledge, intercultural competence) as well as communicative abilities, including linguistic (grammar, lexical) and sociolinguistic (forms of address, register, etc.) competences.

Prerequisite: SPAN2001. Spanish II.1

Assessment: 100% coursework. Coursework includes: i) progress tests, ii) other assignments, and iii) participation in class.

SPAN3001. Spanish III.1 (6 credits)

This course continues to build on the two previous years' work at a more advanced level. The intention is to lead participants towards a more independent use of the Spanish language. Students will be exposed to a variety of texts from different media (written, audio and video) from the Spanish-speaking world. This course aims to develop students' language proficiency through a more in-depth study of important grammatical topics as well as to increase their vocabulary acquisition. The overall aim of the course is to bring the students to a stage consistent with the level B1.2 as defined and established by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFRL). By the end of this course students should be able to understand the main ideas of relatively complex standard texts. They should also be able to interact with native speakers with a certain degree of fluency, produce clear, detailed texts on familiar topics, and give reasons and explanations for their own opinions and plans.

Prerequisite: SPAN2002. Spanish II.2

Assessment: 100% coursework. Coursework includes: i) progress tests, ii) other assignments and iii) participation in class.

SPAN3002. Spanish III.2 (6 credits)

The aim of this course is to build on the work done in the previous semester with SPAN3001. SPAN3002 will lead participants towards a more independent use of the Spanish language, bringing students to a stage consistent with the level B2.1 as defined and established by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFRL). Students will be exposed to a variety of texts from different media (written, audio and video) from the Spanish-speaking world. The selection of documents will also serve as a basis for discussion on social issues related to contemporary Spain and Spanish-speaking countries. The course aims at further developing students' language proficiency through a more in-depth study of important grammatical topics. It also aims to increase students' vocabulary acquisition so as to facilitate oral and written expression and comprehension of the Spanish language. By the end of this course students should have reached a stage where they are able to use the language independently and understand the main ideas of complex texts dealing with concrete and abstract topics. They should also be able to interact with native speakers with a certain degree of fluency and spontaneity. In addition to that, students should be able to produce clear, detailed texts on a wide range of subjects and present different viewpoints.

Prerequisite: SPAN3001. Spanish III.1

Assessment: 100% coursework. Coursework includes: i) progress tests, ii) other assignments, and iii) participation in class.

Capstone Experience Courses

SPAN4003. Developing autonomy in Spanish language learning (capstone experience) (6 credits)

The objective of this course is to enable students to develop autonomous and lifelong habits in Spanish language learning, at the same time as they get exposed to authentic samples of linguistic and cultural production. Students will demonstrate mastery of the skills they have developed and the knowledge they have gained during their degree, as well as reflect on their academic, personal, social and linguistic development.

The course takes the form of a portfolio of autonomous learning activities to be completed throughout the semester. Students will be required to complete a portfolio consisting of a series of activities of their choice within a given repertoire (e.g. watching a film in Spanish, analysing a historical documentary, summarising and critically assessing the contents of weekly news bulletins, etc.) with the aim of putting into practice all the language skills and cultural knowledge they have developed during their university studies. The course teachers will organize a series of workshops aimed at preparing students for such tasks and will also provide students with worksheets to facilitate and monitor their work. Students will have to attend supervision meetings to review the progress of their portfolio. By the end of the semester students should have compiled a portfolio of activities as required and should have demonstrated that they can self-manage their language learning.

Prerequisite: SPAN3002. Spanish III.2; OR

Co-requisite: SPAN3002. Spanish III.2

This course is open to students who are in year 4 and have successfully completed or are currently enrolled in SPAN3002. Spanish III.2. Priority will be given to Major students.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

SPAN4004. Hispanic research project (capstone experience) (6 credits)

This Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) project allows students to pursue independent research under the supervision of the course instructors within the disciplines of cultural and film studies, literature, applied linguistics, language acquisition, language and society, and Spanish as a Foreign Language. The course offers a series of seminars imparted in Spanish and designed to provide students with guidance and support in the process of applying the knowledge and skills acquired in their studies to the completion of a research project. Students will develop their research and writing skills and conduct discussion sessions related to their projects. The research proposals must be submitted to the instructors for approval during the first month of the course, and the final projects by the end of the course. These individually supervised projects must be written in Spanish and the maximum extension will be 3,500 words (excluding graphics, captions and bibliographies).

Prerequisite: SPAN3002. Spanish III.2; OR

Co-requisite: SPAN3002. Spanish III.2

This course is open to students who are in year 4 and have successfully completed or are currently enrolled in SPAN3002. Spanish III.2. Priority will be given to Major students.

Assessment: 100% coursework

SPAN4005. Internship for students of Spanish (capstone experience) (6 credits)

The internship aims at providing selected senior students with an opportunity to work in environments where they will be able to apply their disciplinary knowledge and skills, and acquire work experience through on-the-job training. Internship positions are arranged by students, under the guidance of the course coordinator, in host organisations which provide relevant experiences, such as in government offices, educational institutions, private companies engaged in trade or legal relations between Spanish-language and Asian partners, PR and media relations, event organisation, research and database creation. The student learning activities include preparation, on-site internship work under the guidance and supervision of an internship supervisor, meetings with the academic coordinator/ supervisor, and all associated reading and assessment-related work, which must be completed in Spanish. Assessment (pass/fail) is based on written reports of no more than 3,500 words and feedback from the internship supervisor.

Internships should be conducted at any point during the year before the end of the second semester of year 4 but the registration is offered at the beginning of the first and second semesters only. Students selecting this course as a capstone experience can only register in year 4.

Prerequisite: SPAN3002. Spanish III.2; OR

Co-requisite: SPAN3002. Spanish III.2

This course is open to students who are in year 4 and have successfully completed or are currently enrolled in SPAN3002. Spanish III.2. Priority will be given to Major students.

Assessment: 100% coursework (graded on a Pass/Fail basis)

Elective Courses

SPAN2021. The sounds of Spanish: An introduction to Spanish phonetics and pronunciation (6 credits)

The main objective of this course is to help students improve their oral skills by reflecting on the phonetic and phonological particularities of Spanish while practicing the language in context. The practice of pronunciation will be carried out through a variety of contextualized activities that will stimulate perceptive, productive and interactive skills. Such activities will be divided into two categories: individual work and in-class interaction. The individual work focuses on perception (from distinguishing phonological pairs to identifying intonation patterns in real pieces of speech) and individual production (in the form of podcasts) to help each student identify his/her personal difficulties dealing with the pronunciation of Spanish. In-class activities focus on group readings, role plays and oral communication in relation to the course content.

The course will offer an insight into the linguistic variations of colloquial speech and dialectology.

Besides the linguistic and theoretical nature of the discipline, The Sounds of Spanish is structured around lexical, grammatical and cultural themes adequate to the student's level of Spanish as to contextualize the practice of pronunciation.

This is mainly a practical course and no previous knowledge of Linguistics is required. Teaching materials and medium of instruction will be Spanish.

Prerequisite: SPAN1002. Spanish I.2; OR

Co-requisite: SPAN2001. Spanish II.1

*Students may not enroll in SPAN2021 if they have already completed SPAN2002.

Assessment: 100% coursework. Coursework includes the following: progress tests (written and oral) and assignments such as internet-based tasks and blogs (podcasts) as well as class participation

SPAN2025. Spanish-writing workshop I (6 credits)

The aim of the course is to familiarize students with different writing genres to lead them to an understanding of how different purposes are commonly expressed. Another objective is to provide students with adequate strategies for reading and writing in Spanish. This course's approach is very practical, and students are expected to work in class as well as at home. Based on the guidelines set out by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFRL), this course should lead students towards a more proficient use of written Spanish, equivalent to an A2.2 level. Teaching materials are in Spanish and medium of instruction will be mainly Spanish.

Prerequisite: SPAN1002. Spanish I.2; OR

Co-requisite: SPAN2001. Spanish II.1

*Students may not enroll in SPAN2025 if they have already completed SPAN2002.

Assessment: 100% coursework. Coursework includes: i) progress test, ii) other assignments and iii) participation in class

SPAN2027. Cultural icons from the Hispanic world (6 credits)

This course explores a variety of cultural icons related to the Spanish speaking world from the fields of art, music, architecture, history, cinema and other cultural manifestations. It will introduce students to the origin, meaning and values related to some of the most common icons of the Hispanic world from a local and global perspective. It will also look at country specific cultural referents and their role in the formation of identity and language. In addition to that, the course will explore the roles played by media, advertising and internet in the creation of a cultural icon in today's world. Students will be encouraged to reflect on their own culture, establish comparisons and identify and critically assess their own preconceived ideas. Reading and oral practice will be an essential part of the course. Overall, the course's main objective will be to reinforce and expand students' general knowledge of Hispanic cultures and to improve their linguistic skills.

Prerequisite: SPAN2001. Spanish II.1

Assessment: 100% coursework. Coursework includes: i) progress test, ii) other assignments and iii) participation in class

SPAN2028. Spanish for professional purposes (6 credits)

SPAN2028 is a Spanish for Specific Purposes course which aims at preparing students to effectively interact with Spanish-speaking commercial or governmental institutions. It is aimed at developing students' communicative competence in all four skills (oral, listening, writing, reading), their grammar knowledge and the necessary intercultural competence that will allow them to successfully interact in common situations encountered during the development of administrative and business activities in Spanish-speaking professional environments. The course covers topics such as business vocabulary, job applications, structure and organization of companies, graph commentaries, company design, product description and elementary business correspondence. There will also be a focus on intercultural communication with the Spanish-speaking world in relation to business matters. Students will be exposed to articles on Economy and Business at an elementary level, and will write simple texts to conduct business transactions or apply for a job. Face-to-face negotiations will also be conducted at a level suitable for this course. The level of this course is B1.1 according to CEFRL (European Framework of Reference for Languages).

Prerequisite: SPAN2001. Spanish II.1; OR

Co-requisite: SPAN2002. Spanish II.2

*Students may not enroll in SPAN2028 if they have already completed SPAN2002.

Assessment: 100% coursework

SPAN2029. Introduction to the cultures and history of Latin America (6 credits)

This course offers an interdisciplinary introduction to representative cultural practices and key historical processes of Latin America through a selection of source materials such as films, paintings, historical accounts, religious texts, and music. Discussions in lectures will emphasize aspects of Latin American culture and history that prompt reflections on ethnic diversity, colonialism, political evolution, gender equality, and the role of the arts in understanding all these issues. Guest speakers will be invited to give talks on selected topics. English is the medium of instruction.

Prerequisite: Nil

Assessment: 100% coursework

Medium of Instruction: English

SPAN2030. Key topics in Spanish grammar: From theory to practice (6 credits)

This course will help students strengthen and further develop the grammar skills acquired during their previous studies of Spanish. The main aim of the course is to provide students with the necessary tools to better understand the Spanish language structure. Students will be introduced to linguistic concepts to analyze, reflect on, and understand Spanish grammar. Students will then build on these insights in order to complete tasks designed to reinforce the usage of the target structures. Upon completion of this course, students will be able to identify core grammatical features, and to use appropriate terminology to describe them. They will also be able to apply grammatical insights to evaluate and to demonstrate appropriate usage of the grammar topics reviewed. This course assumes no prior knowledge of linguistic terminology or analysis. Topics covered include word formation, sentence structure, grammatical issues, and Spanish varieties.

Prerequisite: SPAN2001. Spanish II.1

*Students may not enroll in SPAN2030 if they have already completed SPAN3002. Spanish III.2

Assessment: 100% coursework

SPAN2031. Field trip to a Spanish-speaking country (6 credits)

This field-trip will be held in a Spanish-speaking country to learn about its history and culture. Students will have the opportunity to locate historical sites, learn about major cultural referents and socio-historical processes, and develop their capacity to describe their learning experiences in a report. It will start with a teaching and learning component in preparation for the field trip, with lectures and seminars where interactive discussions and independent study are important. In the second part, students will spend two weeks in the host country, visiting sites, presenting their studies at relevant sites, and attending seminars at a cultural or educational institution. Back in Hong Kong, in the third part, students will organize, edit, and critically evaluate their data, which they will use to produce a mixed-media report combining graphic, audiovisual and written texts. Students will apply their study of architecture, art, political and educational institutions to it. Site visits to museums and sites will enable a close attention to art with the aim of facilitating students' critical understanding of the host country's past and present. Furthermore, collaboration with academic departments specializing in China-Latin American interconnections will permit students to gain an understanding of current interests in China in the host Spanish-speaking country.

Pre-requisite: Nil

Assessment: 100% coursework.

SPAN2032. Art in the Hispanic World: An Introduction (6 credits)

Focusing mainly on painting, sculpture and architecture, this course aims at providing an overview of the history of art in Spanish-speaking countries, and in the cultures that preceded them and influenced them most deeply (such as Phoenicia, Ancient Rome, Al-Andalus, Mexica, Maya, Inca...). Throughout the course, special attention will be paid to the combination of historical circumstances, values, cultural movements, and individuals that produced these works of art, as well as to how these pieces affected and transformed society. This course is taught in Spanish and it is aimed primarily at students who have successfully completed SPAN2001 or have achieved an A2 level according to CEFR (Common European Framework of Reference for Languages). SPAN2032 will allow them to further improve and strengthen their linguistic skills towards a B1.1 level at an intermediate level (CEFR B1.1). The course will also help them develop their ability to understand, explain, and express views on topics related to art, culture and history in Spanish.

Prerequisite: SPAN2001. Spanish II.1

Assessment: 100% coursework

SPAN3021. The art of translation: From Spanish to English (6 credits)

This course is an introduction to the translation of texts from Spanish to English and to a lesser extent from English to Spanish. Special attention will be paid to the particular problems created by differences in grammar and other common errors such as “false friends” and influences from the mother tongue.

The aim of this course is to provide students with basic translation skills and to develop their understanding of Spanish grammar and syntax. Students will also learn about the stylistic differences of various genres (newspaper articles, novels, etc.) and how to translate these different types of texts.

Course materials will be selected according to the topics covered in the core course (Spanish III.2) in order to further consolidate the students’ knowledge of Spanish grammar and sentence structure. The course focuses mainly on acquiring practical translation skills rather than the theoretical background and students will be expected to do extensive practical work in class as well as at home.

Prerequisite: SPAN3001. Spanish III.1

Assessment: 100% coursework

SPAN3023. Hispanic visual and literary cultures (6 credits)

This course explores the combined study of manifestations of visual culture such as television series and films, and texts such as short stories and poems with a view towards understanding contemporary Latin American and Spanish societies and improving students’ level of Spanish. Texts are contextualized within their socio-historical milieux and topics are selected with a view towards gender and ethnic balance. Classes are organized thematically to allow for the combined study and comparison of texts created in different media. The course follows a CLIL (Content and Language Integrated Learning) approach and Spanish is the medium of instruction.

Prerequisite: SPAN3001. Spanish III.1

Assessment: 100% coursework

SPAN3026. Spanish in the World: varieties, histories and cultures (6 credits)

The main objective of the course is to offer an introduction to Spanish Dialectology as well as to develop students’ communicative competence in a horizontal way, that is, by linking theory and practice. The course intends to make students familiar with the main dialect areas of the Spanish-speaking world, their history and coexistence with other languages of the world. The course will present basic concepts related to the fields of Linguistics and Dialectology, and will also raise awareness of the current widespread extension of the Spanish language and its prospects. There will be a special emphasis on the characteristics of each geodialect at the levels of phonology, lexis and grammar, as well as on the Spanish spoken in other areas such as Philippines, Türkiye, Equatorial Guinea or the U.S., and on the different phenomena related to them.

The methodology of this course is a blended learning one based on flipped-classroom work and weekly assessments aimed to consolidate knowledge. Students will need to access Moodle on a weekly basis, read the corresponding theory document and do a quiz in preparation for the lecture. In class students will have the opportunity to discuss the contents of the lesson, previously prepared at home, and will be exposed to language excerpts taken from real printed and audiovisual materials which will help to illustrate the contents previously examined at home and further discussed in class. Different language activities will be conducted in class for students to put into practice what they have learned and to promote “learning by doing”, in some cases with the help of native speakers who will be attending the lectures in order to provide students with real language exposure. After class, students will also have to do the language practice exercises about the language variety that was presented in order to consolidate their knowledge.

Prerequisite: SPAN2002. Spanish II.2

Assessment: 100% coursework

SPAN3028. Spanish for business and intercultural communication (6 credits)

This is a Spanish for Specific Purposes course which aims at preparing students to effectively interact with Spanish-speaking companies and institutions. It is a CLIL course which combines the learning of specific linguistic skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking) at a B1 level with the study of cultural and socio-economic aspects that are relevant for the development of commercial and intercultural relations between Spanish-speaking and East-Asian countries. Topics discussed in this course include trade negotiations, etiquette, banking transactions, product promotion and publicity, commercial fairs, the current state of relations between Spanish-speaking and East-Asian governments and organizations, and opportunities for the promotion of business partnerships between companies in East Asia and the Spanish-speaking world. Guest speakers from Spanish-speaking institutions and companies located in Hong Kong are regularly invited to the classes.

Prerequisite: SPAN2002. Spanish II.2

Assessment: 100% coursework

SPAN3031. Contemporary Spain: cultural and societal changes (6 credits)

The aim of this course is to offer a glimpse of the cultural and societal changes in contemporary Spain. Students will learn about Spain in the 20th and 21st centuries, the changes undergone through the political transition from a dictatorship to a democracy and the current challenges. The course will cover topics such as history, politics, economy, society, traditions and customs among others. Students will be exposed to a variety of texts from different media (written, audio and video) from the Hispanic world. The selection of documents will also serve as a basis for discussion on social issues related to contemporary Spain and Spanish-speaking countries. Students will be encouraged to critically analyse and compare Spanish culture and society with their own culture.

Prerequisite: SPAN3001. Spanish III.1

Assessment: 100% coursework

SPAN3119. Overseas immersion language course - Spanish (6 credits)

This course provides an opportunity to study Spanish and to experience linguistic and cultural immersion in a partner institution located in a Spanish-speaking country. The linguistic and cultural immersion usually takes place during the summer months (e.g., June, July and/or August) (courses may also be offered in the winter break) and the duration of the stay may vary from two weeks to one month, but must include at least 60 hours of formal class tuition. Students typically take part in this linguistic and cultural immersion experience after the completion of their second year of language studies at HKU. This experience is carried out by means of an intensive course designed to build on and to reinforce the language competence acquired during the previous years of study as well as to prepare the participants for more advanced work in the final years of the Programme. Upon completion of the intensive course, students can enrol in SPAN3119 at HKU the following academic year

The aims and objectives of this course are as follows: i. to expand the participants' proficiency in all aspects of the language; ii. to offer a first-hand cultural and linguistic experience of the environment where the language is spoken; iii. to better prepare the participants for more advanced work upon their return.

Prerequisite: SPAN2002. Spanish II.2

Assessment: 100% coursework. In order to be granted credits for this course, participants have to ensure that the course builds on their previous work done at HKU and is offered at the A2 level or above of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFRL) and, after completing of the course, students have (1) to produce a formal statement of attendance and certified transcript bearing mention of the final grade(s) obtained from the host institution, as well as the level attained according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages; (2) to provide a portfolio including i. a learning journal written in Spanish of approximately 1,000 words relating to daily class activities and, ii. samples of assessments (written assignments, tests, examinations, projects etc.) along with evaluation results.

SPAN4001. Spanish IV.1 (6 credits)

The aim of this course is to build on the work done in the previous semester with SPAN3002. The intention is to continue leading participants towards a more independent use of the Spanish language in order for them to complete the B2 level of the CEFRL. Students will be exposed to a variety of texts from different media (written, audio and video) from the Hispanic world. The selection of documents will also serve as a basis for discussion on social issues related to contemporary Spain and Spanish-speaking countries. This course aims at further developing students' language proficiency through a more in-depth study of important grammatical topics. It also aims to increase students' vocabulary acquisition so as to facilitate oral and written expression and comprehension of the Spanish language. By the end of this course students should have reached a stage where they are able to use the language independently and understand the main ideas of complex texts dealing with concrete and abstract topics. They should also be able to interact with native speakers with a degree of fluency and spontaneity, produce clear, detailed texts on a wide range of subjects and explain a viewpoint in detail giving the advantages and disadvantages of various options.

Prerequisite: SPAN3002. Spanish III.2

Assessment: 100% coursework. Coursework includes: i) progress tests, ii) other assignments, iii) participation in class and iv) an oral test.
